CEDARVILLE, OHIO, MONDAY, JANUARY 2, 1920

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

EXAMINER OPPOSES 25 DAYS FROM HIS PADDLED BILL.

This has been written in the case of Mr. E. E. Finkler, who was charged with paddling his account by former auditor A. E. Finkler.

The case is a clear-cut political job in which the auditor has been swayed in the settlement but not as to whether Mr. Finkler had paid his original bill in full.

It will be remembered that Mr. Finkler paddled his account 32 days according to a daily check kept by Mr. Finkler and his assistants. At the regular rate of $10 a day was $320 to the county.

The matter was taken up with State Auditor A. V. Donahy, who has long and long over his administration of public affairs and how he has brought public officials to time through the state department of which he is head.

On September 23 Mr. Finkler and his deputy, Charles Mower, went to Columbus for the hearing of the charges but Mr. Finkler was not present. This only gave Mr. Donahy an opportunity of examining the charges and facing his story before another hearing could be held.

Mr. Donahy at first was very indignant over the charges filed by Mr. Finkler and he informed both gentlemen that Mr. Finkler had no more of a job than a snowball in Hell, yet he would have to give him a hearing.

He heard from the rules governing the examination which did not permit extra work or compensation for outside work other than to Mr. Bliss, examiner in Hamilton county.

But the statements of Mr. Donahy and the rules do not seem to fit this case judging from the way it has been juggled in order to protect the examiner.

Mr. Finkler claims that he was in Cincinnati consulting with C. E. Broton, an examiner, on four different days, relative to Greene county matters and should be paid. Other days he claims to have done a certain amount of work at home but the local officials who visited his room, No. 17, in the courthouse daily, during his absence say that if he had gone from the room for a noon day lunch, it would have been impossible to have done this work at home as the vouchers were in the room and the rules do not permit him to provide for outside work.

On Labor Day C. E. Broton of Cincinnati was in Xenia in conference with Prosecutor Smith relative to this case at which time he stated that the department would not countenance such action of an examiner and he was surprised to think that Mr. Finkler would attempt such a thing.

The original bill was $1330.50 but a credit was afterwards given of time of amounting to $97.50.

A second amended bill was filed which called for $1233 and in this five days were listed as time being in Cincinnati on business for this county. Under a letter of December 12 Mr. Donahy, through his chief deputy, E. N. Halbrecht, states that Mr. Finkler was in Cincinnati four days for which he should be paid. Evidently Mr. Finkler, and the state officials in framing up a whitewash overlooked the extra day.

The matter has been settled in full by the county paying $1050.50, a deduction of 25 days from the original bill, or a difference of four days less than Mr. Finkler contended for.

Mr. Donahy stated at first that he had demoted an examiner some months ago because he paddled his account one day, yet as far as Mr. Finkler is still on the job after acknowledging that he paddled his account 28 days and having $280 taken from his original bill.

It is a plain case of sham reform on the part of Mr. Donahy, who goes about the state boasting of the reformation that he is staging. If we were to venture an opinion the man that was demoted for an extra charge of one day, we would say that he was a Republican. Mr. Finkler evidently belongs to Mr. Donahy's branch of the Democratic party and will be useful in his campaign for governor.

"We" there is something rotten in Denmark!

NEW ROADS PROMISED.

The Greene county commissioners have just passed a resolution to join with the state in the improvement of ten miles of county roads next year. This will be the greatest mileage ever built in Greene County in one year and it will aid in the completion of several intercounty highways in this section.

The roads to be improved are two and one-half miles of the Dayton and Springfield Pike, known as intercounty highway No. 60; the Springfield and Xenia Pike, intercounty highway No. 109 from the north corner of the Yellow Springs section to the Greene and Clark county line, 1.5 miles. Nearly seven miles of the Springfield and Xenia Pike, intercounty highway No. 109, will be built between Cedarville and Xenia. Waterford and Xenia Pike will be used in the road work.

FOX DRIVE STARTS EARLY NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Hundreds of outdoor lovers in Clark, Fayette, Greene, Madison and adjacent counties are preparing for the biggest fox drive ever held in central Ohio, arrangements having been made at a meeting held at South Charleston. Governor Cox, Mayor Korb, Mayor-elect Thomas, A. C. Baxter, chief of the fish and game bureau, and other prominent Columbus citizens have been invited to take part, which will be pulled off at 9 o'clock on January 1.

Arrangements are in the hands of Dr. William Francis, Ralph Harold, Dr. L. C. Jones, Dr. H. J. Rain, Floyd Barman, Harry Campbell, Scott Cheney, Joe Westlake and Harry Campbell of South Charleston; Landy Lee and Charles Shiggins of South Solon; Lewis McDorman, Elton Tindall and Harry Wolford of Selma; and Joe Markindale and Irvin Baker of Gladstone.

The drive will start promptly at 9 a. m. at the towns above named and will center in the 200 acre blue grass pasture of Henry Bateman, about three miles south of South Charleston. A number of women and girls will participate in the big event and each detachment will be headed by a captain on horseback. All the others will be on foot and cannot carry shotguns or any other weapon excepting clubs. No dog will be taken along and everybody is invited to get in the race.

A barbecue at Charleston at night will end the festivities.

People from Xenia, Springfield, Columbus, Dayton, Washington, C. H. Jamestown, South Vienna, London, Cedarville and elsewhere will tramp after Mr. Fox.

DANGER IN RAW PORK.

At this season there is a special danger of illness following the eating of raw pork or only partially cooked. Of course, most Americans do not knowingly consume raw cooked pork, although it is eaten infrequently either as ham or in sausages that have insufficiently cooked. At hog-killing time particularly there are many home-made meat products prepared on the farm, and consequently special care should be taken to make sure that the pork, which is eaten, is sufficiently cooked. This disease known as trichinosis, which may result from eating raw or imperfectly cooked pork, is caused by microscopic worms known as trichinae. These parasites in years past have been found to be present in one out of 71 hogs, and if the presence of dead trichinae and trichina-like bodies is included in the count, an average of 1 out of every 39 hogs has been found affected. Unlike many other infectious diseases, the severity of the attack of trichinosis depends upon the number of parasites swallowed. Large quantities of slightly infected pork must be eaten in order to produce bad effects, but on the other hand, severe illness may be caused by eating small amounts of pork that is heavily infected.

NO MORE "FLU" UNDER NEW GRAFT HEALTH LAW.

The fellow who writes the press story for the new health machine, with headquarters in Columbus, sends us a notice saying that the new health law which goes into effect Jan. 1 was necessary following the epidemic of the "flu" last winter. Under the old law the public received a service that cost little or nothing. Under the new law there is no end of expense of salaries, automobiles, nurses, etc. are paid by the taxpayers. We suppose the public will always be free from epidemic as long as the medical fraternity gets to nurse at the public test, this being the main object of the Hughes bill which was pushed through the legislature by the agents of the State Medical Association.

GREAT WASTE OF PAPER.

(Ohio State Journal)

Congress has taken note of the shortage of print paper, which is extremely serious and threatening, and we are glad to see that some of the members realize that conservation should begin at home. Senator Smoot, for instance, advocates the immediate suspension of all public documents, congressional and departmental. If this was done the savings of valuable paper would be literally enormous and the loss to the country virtually nothing. The mass of public printing which comes to the editor's desk every morning is astounding. Most of it is absolutely useless to everybody. It is turned out in these vast quantities for two reasons, because it flatters office holders' vanity and because the preparation of it makes jobs. Any thing of importance which is done or said in Washington the newspapers print, and in this time of stress public documents should be dispensed with, their publication to be resumed, perhaps, some time later on a reasonable scale. The humblest country newspaper does more good in the world than the pretentious document.

Hail and Farewell.

FAREWELL TO THE OLD.

Old Year, thy life is well-nigh spent,
Thy feet are tottering and slow,
Thy hoary head with age is bent,
The time is here for thee to go;
Already in the frozen snow
A lonely grave is made for thee;
Thy winds are chanting dirges low,
Upon the land and on the sea.

Old Year, thou wert a friend to some—
To some thou wert of worth untold,
Thy days were blessings, everyone,
More precious far than shining gold;
But unto others, thou a foe—
Did prove thyself an enemy,
Relentless as the chains of woe—
As ruthless as the maddened sea.

Some will rejoice to know the dead,
Others will mourn thee as a friend,
Some will look back on thee with dread,
Others their praises to thee lend;
I neither offer praise or blame,
Old Year, for what thou broughtest me,
For unto me both joy and pain,
Thy active hands gave lavishly.

Thy solemn death-hour draws a night—
And hark! I hear thy funeral knell
Slow pealing through the darkened sky—
Farewell, Old Year—farewell, farewell!

HAIL TO THE NEW.

Hail! hail to thee, O virgin year!
Not yet a day's length on thy throne—
Thou with the merry eyes and clear
And joyous voice of dulcet tone:
Hail! hail to thee, thou with strong of limb;
Our praise is thine, O youthful king,
For thou art pure of word and sin,
Thy young hands yet but blessings bring.

The monarch who is laid away
Within the catacomb of years
Was harsh and ruthless in his day—
Seemed less to love his joys than tears;
We look for blessings manifold
New Year, from thy pure sinless hand;
We trust thy heart will never grow cold
Toward us—and our Native Land.

Bring healing to the hearts now sore
From wounds the cruel Old Year made;
The evil of the past is now no more
We cannot love a tyrant king!
Our hearts refuse to loyal be
To one who takes delight to fling
Upon our hearts keen misery!

Be kind to us—that we may say,
When comes the time for thee to go:
"O darling year, we grieve thee sad,
Because we all have loved thee so!"
—Good Housekeeping.

NEEDED SOME CORN.

Corn thieves helped themselves to a load of about 40 bushels of corn belonging to Clarence Stuckey on the Winter farm south of town Friday night. The corn was loaded in a wagon from a crib and trucked to the road. Mr. Stuckey has this farm rented but will move until spring and has had Wiley Jones to do the feeding and care for the stock.

DIES IN HOSPITAL.

SOME RECORD HOGS.

John E. Gnagney received a letter from a friend in Pennsylvania last week stating he had butchered two 12-month-old hogs recently. He said that they weighed 427 and 437 pounds respectively when dressed. This seems like they were mighty big for that age. Does anyone around these "digging" know of any about the same age that would weigh more?—West Milton Record.

WILL ATTACK AUTO LAW.

The Ohio Automobile Association has given notice that it will attack constitutionality of the recent automobile license law recently passed by the legislature. Under the recent decision of the Ohio Supreme Court this law, the new health law and one or two others may have to be changed to meet the requirements of the constitution.

TRAPPEES MAKING MONEY ON HIGH PRICED FURS.

There is no business in this section that has grown to the extent of the fur business.

A few years ago a muskrat was sold by the trapper for twenty-five cents and the trapper thought he was well paid for his trouble. Today he gets from $3 to $3.50 for the same grade of fur.

You walk into a fur store and the clerk wants to show you a "Hudson seal coat." Now the name sounds big but the fur is nothing but the common ordinary muskrat, electrically treated, clipped and dyed.

The clerk may ask you $500 or up to $1,000 for a seal coat. If the coat is made of seal skin it is worth $500 to $1,000. These 100 skins cost the fur buyer around $650. He sells to the company that prepares the fur and additional expense and a profit is added. Then comes the making of the coat and the sale to the dealer who must have a big profit for handling high priced articles. So you see why $1000 is asked for a muskrat or Hudson Seal coat.

The skunk is also in great demand as is the fox. It is said that the silver gray fox or genuine black fox will bring from $1500 to $2000 to the trapper. While there are no silver gray or black foxes in this section a large number of the common kind have been captured this season. The mink is also a valuable fur but few have been caught in this section in recent years.

Wm. Marshall, the local "fur king" buys and ships several thousand dollars of pelts each week, most of his shipments going to New York City, where it is said that there are 1500 fur manufacturing firms.

THE POOR SUFFERED.

Dr. Richard Lawrence, of Dayton, who returned to that city this week, after five years enforced service in German hospitals, states that the rich people of Germany always managed to have plenty of food and other comforts, but that the poor, especially in the winter of 1916, suffered intensely from the lack of food. Many children only a few months old died from this acute 'scurvy' after being admitted to the hospital.

FARMERS ARE URGED TO RAISE MORE SHEEP.

Ohio farmers are urged to raise more sheep by Prof. B. L. Thompson, of the department of animal husbandry at the Ohio State University.

"With present prices for wool and mutton where will it be a more profitable investment in livestock than in a bunch of cows?" he asks.

"The price of wool is better than it has been for years. While mutton is not as high at present as it has been at times, yet the price is fairly satisfactory.

"No other farm animal, excepting the goat, will set upon a variety of plants as will sheep. This characteristic of sheep makes them valuable in making mutton. Sheep plants abandoned a wide variety of farms where sheep have been kept are converted into high-priced mutton and wool. At the same time the price of wool is increased in value, to the benefit of the farmer."

WATCHNIGHT MEETING.

Watch Night services will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church, Wednesday evening, December 31, at 8 p. m. The church is open for an inspiring, helpful, devotional service and the social hour will be pleasant. Mr. Geo. H. Hartman, Prof. L. D. Parker, Rev. H. Hartman, and others will speak on the general theme, "Win One." The music will be directed by Mrs. J. W. Johnson. The service will be a devotional service. You are invited to attend.

At the service Sunday morning January 4, at the Methodist Episcopal church, the pastor will receive into full membership between 40 and 50 people both young and old. The baptismal service will precede the communion and will follow a reception of members. You cannot afford to miss a service where so many people, most of whom are young, are giving themselves to the service and uniting with the church. It will be a service with which you will begin the New Year as members of the church.

NEW LIGHT CONTRACT.

Yellow Springs council has approved a new electric-light contract with the Dayton Power & Light Co. The village purchases the power from the Dayton concern and then retains it to residents and merchants. A clause in the contract is that the village must pay one-fourth cent additional per kilowatt hour for every 50c the coal costs over $4 a ton. The new contract will cost the village about $500 a year more than it has in the past.

PASTOR INSTALLED.

Rev. R. S. McElhinney, pastor of the Xenia Avenue Covenant church was installed Tuesday. Rev. Fulton of Belle Center, O., delivered the charge to the pastor and Rev. John Foster of Belle Center to the people. Messrs. John Foster and W. R. Sterrett were members of the commission and made remarks in keeping with the importance of the event. Rev. J. P. White of the U. P. church also made a short address. Rev. McElhinney was called here from Bloomington, Ind.

DAIRY CATTLE SELL HIGH.

The entire herd of Jersey cattle belonging to Mrs. C. C. Folck & Son of Springfield, was sold to E. S. Kelley of Whitehall Farm. Mrs. Folck and son Chester, had set the date for Feb. 23 for a public auction, but the private sale of the herd to their neighbor obviates any auction as planned. There were about 35 head in the sale.

TAKES NEW POSITION.

Several months ago it was announced that Mr. Folck has accepted the position of manager of the Jersey department of the Whitehall establishment, effective about January 1. By the sale outright to Mr. Kelley, Mr. Folck has been enabled to take up his new work already and he and Mrs. Folck have taken up their residence in the Whitehall farm. His mother will remain at Gwynneth Farm, the Folck homestead.

In this sale the price paid was on the average of $500 per head including several calves less than a month old. The price paid for the herd is perhaps the record for an entire herd at private sale and exceeds the previous Ohio record for the sale of an entire herd at least $100 per head.

In Dennis De Wine, general manager and Folck, Mr. Kelley has a great team in charge of Whitehall activities. He is having an office placed near the dairy barn and in the spring expects to build a calf barn to accommodate 80 calves with a sale pavilion in connection. A test sow barn also is under consideration.

THE COUNTY AGENT.

We never have proved, as a permanent form of county bureau, conditions from other industries than farming, for we believe that the organizations which make the largest contributions in support of any active enterprise will eventually control and direct it. The county farm bureau should be financed and directed by its members and its members should be the farmers of the county. If farm bureaus are organized upon this basis, there will be little or no danger of any interest getting control of the bureau except that for whom it is organized to serve.

The county agent, who becomes the active representative of the bureau in the county, is paid by the state and federal government. He is, in a measure, will dominate the activities of the county farm bureau and if he is the right sort of man will become its leader and representative, but the controlling power will remain in the hands of the producer. If it does not do this, it will miss its purpose. It has been said that "no reform has ever gone far or accomplished permanent results unless it has developed its leaders from within the ranks of those men more affected. There is an inherent danger in the progress of any reform movement unless it is directed by those who know of their own knowledge every feature and every turn of the currents of life and thought and occupation of the class most affected by the change, and which is the party of the first interest."

Farmers, it is up to you to control and direct your own business. If you do not, then some other agency will and its efforts will never be satisfactory.—Hoski's Dairyman.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. A. B. STEWART, D. D.,
Speaker of English Bible in the Society of the Bible Institute of Chicago
(Copyright, 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 4

PETER PREACHES AT PENTECOST

LESSON TEXT—Acts 2:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.—Acts 2:21.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—John 1:12-13; John 14:17-18; Acts 1:5-6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter telling about Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The story of Pentecost.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Three Thousand Were in One Day.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TOPIC—The Permanent Meaning of Pentecost.

1. The Day of Pentecost Fully Come (vv. 1-3).

2. The gift (vv. 2-4). On this day the Holy Spirit came upon the disciples in a new way, and from that time forward he has worked on a new basis, having the crucified, risen and ascended Christ to present to the world.

3. Upon whom the Spirit came (v. 1, cf. 1:13-15)—the twelve and others, both men and women to the number of about three hundred, showing that the gift of the Holy Spirit was for all believers. It was for this "promise of the Father" that the disciples were to tarry at Jerusalem (Luke 24:49).

4. The marks of the Spirit (vv. 2-4). The sound of a mighty wind (v. 2). This is suggestive of the mysterious, all-pervasive and powerful agency of the Spirit. Tongues of flame (v. 3). Tongues show the practical purpose of the Spirit's gift—will-ness; and the fire indicates his purifying energy burning up the dross, making effective witnessing for Christ. (c) Speaking in foreign tongues (v. 4). This was a temporary endowment for this special purpose.

5. The effects (vv. 5-13). (1) The multitude were filled with amazement and wonder, for these common men were transformed into men of power and fluency. (2) Some mocked and foolishly accused the disciples of being intoxicated.

6. Peter's sermon (vv. 14-47). His analysis is perfect. He begins with a brief defense and scriptural explanation of the phenomena of tongues (vv. 14-21), and by a three-fold argument, proves the Messiahship of Jesus (vv. 22-36).

7. The introduction (vv. 14-21). Defense of the disciples against the charge of being drunk (v. 15). This he does by citing Jewish customs, showing that they would not be drunk at such an early hour of the day. (2) A scriptural explanation. He shows that it was a partial fulfillment of that which was predicted (v. 16-21, cf. Joel 2:28-32) would come to pass before the Messianic judgment, namely, an outpouring of the Holy Spirit and the salvation of all who call upon the name of the Lord.

8. The argument (vv. 22-36). It is threefold: (1) From Christ's works (v. 22). He was approved of God among the Jews by his miracles, wonders and signs which God did by him in their midst, with which they were familiar. (2) From his resurrection (vv. 23-28). The Old Testament scriptures had foretold the death and resurrection of Christ (Psalm 16:9-10). The disciples were living witnesses of Christ's resurrection, for they had seen and talked with him, and handled him since his resurrection (v. 32). (3) From his ascension to be at the right hand of God (v. 32). The proof that he had ascended on high was the wonderful miracle of the Spirit's operation in their midst, for he had said at that time that he would send the Holy Spirit upon his ascension into heaven; he would send forth the Spirit. The conclusion is that Jesus of Nazareth is both Lord and Christ, the one of whom Joel prophesied (v. 30), and that the Jews are guilty of an awful crime in crucifying him.

9. The effect of the sermon (vv. 37-42). Many people were convicted of their sins, some 3,000 of whom repented and were baptized. The daily life of these believers was a proof of the Spirit's gift. The evidence that the coming of the Spirit was real is that (1) they continued steadfastly in the apostolic teaching (v. 42), that is, they were learning about Jesus Christ, being taught by the apostles instead of the scribes; they turned away from their blind guides and followed new ones. (2) They continued in fellowship with the apostles (v. 42). This fellowship was in the spirit, around Christ as the head; the one body being illustrated by the one loaf. (3) They continued in prayer (v. 42).

A Prayer.
Almighty and living God, we beseech thee to look with love and mercy on us. Keep us in thy faith and fear. Give us grace to resist the devil, and to renounce all his works and temptations. Guard us from the lust and sins of the flesh. Shield us from the corruption of the world. Make us diligent and faithful in our appointed work. Keep us patient under trial. In anxiety and worry, help us to find trust and peace in thee. All of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior. Amen.

Was Bound to Go Along.
Harry's father and a friend were going for a walk one Sunday afternoon, and Harry insisted on going along. His father said he would give him a nickel if he stayed home. Harry refused. The father then promised to bring him back a bicycle if he stayed at home and was a good boy. Harry pondered this for a moment and replied: "No, I'll go along and ride it back."

BANEROFT COMING MONDAY, JAN. 12.

The Men's Bible class of the M. E. church has arranged for the appearance of E. D. Baneroft, noted Y. M. C. A. worker and lecturer for Monday evening, Jan. 12 at 8:30 p. m. at the church parlors. The L. A. S. will serve supper. Admission 50c for the lecture and supper. Keep this date in mind and lend your aid and presence on that occasion.

What a Difference.

What a difference there is between a person who thinks and one who only says what has been thought.—Madame de La Fayette.

Toothache Remedies.

A good remedy for toothache is Derogative. England is to hit a tooth from a skull in the churchyard and keep it in the pocket always. In America, if you trim your finger nails regularly on a Friday morning you will never have the toothache. In Ireland, Christian pilgrims who visit the holy well of St. Patrick, on the last three Sundays in June, to worship St. Patrick, are required to give an offering of half a penny against all possible dangers of toothache in the future. To get the best results it is necessary to go three times around a neighboring tree on the bare knees and then cut out a lock of hair and tie it to a branch of the tree. This tree, fringed with human hair, is a sight but, nevertheless, is an object of deep veneration.

Agnosticism.

Agnosticism is a school of thought which believes that beyond what man can know by his senses or feel by his higher faculties, nothing can be known. Facts or supposed facts both of the lower and the higher life, are accepted, but all inferences deduced from these facts as to the existence of an unseen world, or of beings higher than man are considered unsatisfactory, and are ignored. Agnosticism, positivism, and secularism have much in common, and many people exist to whom any one of the three names might be indifferently applied.

WELCOME NEWS.

Regardless of Paper Shortage and "Frenzied Advance in Prices" by Other Newspapers, the Ohio State Journal Announces Its Annual Bargain Offer—January to Again Begin the Month.

About everybody knows of the big paper shortage in "white print" news paper and realizes subscription prices are likely to be advanced any time. Withstand this fact, the Ohio State Journal has made announcement of their Annual Bargain Offer, to be in effect during the month of January. The Bargain Offer embraces 14 Club offers and is mighty attractive. There is a reduction in the regular price of each club, the publications, included being leaders in their respective fields. No one should experience any difficulty in expressing just what they desire. The increased size of the Ohio State Journal during the past six months, making possible additional news reports, has created favorable comment everywhere the Ohio State Journal circulates, the unanimous verdict being that it is a bigger and better newspaper than ever before. Being the only morning newspaper in Central Ohio, thereby reaching rural route patrons on day of publication, it is naturally preferred.

The Associated Press news service always reliable, state and Columbus news, legislative editorials, live stock, grain, produce and financial market reports, "Factors From Our Readers," weather observations, baseball and racing, Matt and Ned, with their daily comic strips, all help make a complete newspaper. The Ohio State Journal is so given in tone that it welcomed in every home.

During January the yearly price of the Ohio State Journal will be four dollars. With either the National Stockman or the Ohio Farmer the price will be four dollars and fifty cents. Subscriptions may be sent to this office or direct to the Ohio State Journal, Columbus, O.—Adv.

CHINESE WOMEN STUDY HEALTH

Three Doctors Return From America to Begin Active Health
Campaign Among Women.

ALL AGENCIES COMBINE.

American Y. W. C. A. Will Support
Women's Part of Chinese Health
Campaign as Part of World
Service Program.

As a result of the Y. W. C. A. International Conference of Women Physicians, held during September and October, Chinese women are to have a far-reaching health program.

Dr. Ida Kahn, Dr. Li-Chun and Dr. Dai, three of China's best hundred women physicians, who attended this conference, are to take an active part in promoting this health program for women which will be the share of the Y. W. C. A. in the big health movement in China.

The funds for establishing these health centers, for demonstrations of how to care for babies, for health lectures for the women, for babies' dispensaries and for a general educational campaign will be raised by the American Y. W. C. A. as part of its program of world service for women and girls in 1920.

Dr. Ida Kahn, in a recent appeal to modern Chinese women said, "Let our women of education in Peking and elsewhere gather themselves together to work for the schools, Red Cross and Y. W. C. A. and everything else which bespeaks the betterment of the country, instead of staying at home to play poker and 'sparrow' and going out to attend endless dinners, tea parties and dances."

"Let us rally our forces and help the ship of state to move safely. One person cannot accomplish much, but one or two hundred millions of women can work wonders. Let us go back to a more Spartan-like simplicity of living and let us build up social service until every city in China is sanitary, every section of the town has its proper schools, and every child, whether boy or girl, is sent to such schools. True social service brings democracy in its train, and we, who are citizens of a new republic can help to make it truly great by preaching and living democracy all the time. Why not learn to do our household duties, deeming it degrading to be waited upon by maids and slaves girls all the time?"

"The status of women in China, while leaving much to be desired, still is quite hopeful when we consider that she is just emerging into the sisterhood of the nations. Our men can depend upon us to bear the burdens of the day; for nowhere is there a more industrious, diligent and persevering womanhood than in China."

Dr. Kahn is lecturing in this country on the needs of her fellow country women, in the interests of the Y. W. C. A. Educational Campaign which plans to acquaint people with all phases of Y. W. C. A. work in the United States, South America, China, Japan, India and Europe. This educational campaign will be followed by an active effort to raise the $500,000 needed for service for women throughout the world.

CHINESE WOMEN HAVE FINANCIAL ABILITY.

They Carried Y. W. C. A. Campaign "Over the Top."

Much has been said about the honesty and skill of the Chinese business man. The world has recognized to mention the financial ability of Chinese women. They proved this ability in the last financial campaign of the Y. W. C. A. in Tientsin.

Ordinarily three weeks are allowed in which to raise the budget by subscription after the finance committee has decided upon the sum necessary to carry on the work of the coming year. The Tientsin campaign was carried on entirely by Chinese women and broke all records by going over the top in ten days with a large surplus over the budget.

Lake Periodically Disappears.

In Georgia, near Vindicta, there is a lake which disappears every three or four years and then comes back again, no matter what the weather is like. The lake is three miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide, with an average depth of 12 feet of water. There are natural subterranean passages beneath it, through which the water passes off. It is two or three weeks to disappear, when a mammoth basin is left in its place, which furnishes a beautiful sun's beach. After a month or so the water begins to return, and then in a couple of weeks it is the same magnificent stretch of water as it was before.

The High School basketball team is stepping about just at present with considerable pride over recent victories. Bowersville was defeated by a score of 25 to 32 last Friday while Jamestown was trimmed to the tune of 16 to 36 last Thursday evening. The girls' team did not fare as well and lost out to Jamestown by a score of 15 to 7. The boys have a feeling that they have a chance for the county championship banner and are bending every effort to land in first place this year instead of second last year.

The Selma Farmers' Institute was held Monday and Tuesday and good attendance and interesting speakers are reported. A musical feature was the playing of a new instrument by Noah Wright which he made himself and called a "Harmophone". It consists of a horn and strings. The tone is peculiar, a cross between a Saxophone and a violin with volume of the latter. Exceptionally good was the rendition of the old time melodies while the "Devil's Dream", "Rocky Road to Dublin" and "Turkey and the Straw" gave a good excuse for shuffling of feet.

ABLE TO BE ABOUT AGAIN. One of the remarkable cures for cancer has brought relief to Fred Tindall of Selma, father of L. F. Tindall of this place. Mr. Tindall last summer made a trip to the Mayo Bros. hospital in Rochester, Minn., but after examination was told there was no chance for his recovery. A new treatment by the use of radium by a Chicago specialist was heard of and Mr. Tindall went there for treatment with the result that he was able to return home some time ago and is now able to be about and is daily regaining his strength. It is said that a representative of the Mayos was present when the Chicago specialist started the treatment. Mr. Tindall has suffered several months with the disease and was in a very weakened condition when he first submitted to this operation which was unusually severe. His many friends are pleased to know of his improvement and that he is now able to be about again.

Furniture Polish. Furniture that is slightly scratched—almost any furniture, in fact—looks 30 per cent better if treated to a rubbing with liquid wax once in so often. One need not use much of the wax or even exert a great deal of strength in the rubbing, and the wax should be the ordinary prepared liquid wax that comes in gallon cans for use on hardwood floors. Once in two weeks or so go over the mahogany tables and chair backs, the piano, the big desk, the phonograph case and such articles with a flannel cloth on which a little of the liquid wax has been poured.

HAWKINS-MARSHALL WEDDING NEW YEAR EVENT.

A marriage ceremony of New Year's day made Miss Mary Lucile Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Marshall, 249 West First avenue, the bride of Mr. James H. Hawkins. The service was at noon at the home of the bride's parents and the officiating minister was Rev. John G. King of the Nell Avenue United Presbyterian church. Miss Miriam Hawkins, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Mr. Alfred L. Marshall, the bride's brother, was best man, and Eleanor Bull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bull of Cedarville O., and cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Miss Ruth Tarbox of Xenia played a program of wedding music, also piano accompaniment, for Miss Margaret Potts, who sang "At Dawning" and "Oh Promise Me."

The bride was gowned in white georgette over satin, with veil of tulle and orange blossoms, and carried bride's roses and swansons in a show bouquet. Miss Miriam Hawkins wore pink georgette and carried pink roses, and the ringbearer wore white and carried the rings in a tiny basket. The double ring service was used.

The nuptial rows were exchanged under an archway made of southern smilax and pansies.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding dinner. At the bride's table, decorated with pink roses, covers were laid for Miss Miriam Hawkins, Miss Ruth Tarbox, Miss Margaret Potts, Miss Margaret Lawson, Miss Miriam Hawkins, Mr. Charles Hawkins, Mr. Harry Marshall, Mr. Carl Eyrin, Mr. Robert Shank, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Geyer and the bride and bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will live on the bridegroom's farm near Xenia on their return from a ten days trip. The bride's traveling outfit was of pink blue with nutria trimmings. With this she wore a hat of bisque shades.

"BIG BOY" MAKES VISIT.

Shelton Haggard, colored, known to many here as "Big Boy", ran down from Columbus Sunday morning returning to his home Monday evening. Shelton in his early days was one of the boys about town that was noted for his comic sayings and imitations of his white friends. A number of years ago he served in the regular army and while traveling on government duty received an injured hand that has been against him as a barber. He has just been informed that his claim from the government has been allowed which is back pay for the past nineteen years at $300 a year or $5700. He will receive a pension in addition starting on January this year of $30 a month.

A vast amount of work now remains to be done which the intervention of war has necessarily delayed and accumulated, and the result is that a very large capital expenditure must be made to make up for the interruptions inevitably due to the war, and to prepare the railroads to serve adequately the increased traffic throughout the country.

WALKER D. HINES,
Director General of Railroads.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can grow only as fast as the railroads grow.

Invest Your Christmas Money In A Victrola

For years to come it will pay dividends of service and pleasure, filling leisure hours with the joy and inspiration that only music can give.

Its A Solid Investment

Remember, we sell only the genuine Victrola—we have always recommended it because it is the best. The larger profits derived from the sale of inferior machines has never induced us to change this policy, even when it was impossible to get Victrolas.
